

Linda Barutha
 Wholesale Strategist for
 Product-based Businesses

Hi! I'm Linda! A Wholesale Strategist for product-based businesses. In addition to co-hosting and interviewing makers on The Maker's Story Podcast, I also provide webinars that teach people how to dial into who their target audience really is.

BACKGROUND

- Inventor of my own mixed media product line which I sold wholesale right out of the gate and had featured on Zulily twice!
- Shop owner and teacher of mixed media art
- Course creator of Whole$ale Essentials which is a complete step-by-step system for getting your products into the wholesale industry

I believe in the importance for women to rise up and make their dreams a reality. Age is just a number -- Don't make it an excuse!

FUN FACTS

- Start each morning with vanilla creamer in my coffee
- Obsessed over The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel
- love to lose myself while playing the slot machines at casinos
- I covet reading vampire mysteries (think Vampire Diaries and the adventures of Sookie Stackhouse from True Blood)

WHAT ARE PEOPLE SAYING?

"Linda has a joyful and nurturing nature that makes you feel like you are working with a friend. She is there to help and she cares about your business. She is passionate about what she does and it shows. She understands your struggles and celebrates your wins. She is truly a pleasure to work with." Rita Barakat

"I have worked with Linda before and love her customer service, patience with me as a new shop owner and overall helpfulness. She also helped me out with my shop in so many ways. She is great! I highly recommend her." Kay Lynn-York
